This year has been a very unusual year for everyone in one form or another. Certainly it has been a strange one for the Poppy Appeal particularly as another lockdown came in the middle of our collection period, with a vast number of business's having to close making it difficult for us to collect.

Saying this I would like to thank you and all the other schools in my area for the tremendous efforts made to collect the amounts of money that you have all realised for the Poppy Appeal.

Every year you support our appeal, but this year you have given that little extra to ensure that our ex-servicemen and women and their dependents and the current service personnel that require our assistance can receive the support they so richly deserve.

Thank you all once again.
